

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am particularly indebted to my guide Dr. Arup Kr. Hazarika, Associate Professor, Department of Zoology, Cotton College, Cotton College State University and Director CEEED (Centre for Environment, Education and Economic Development), whose constant inspiration and encouragement made me to take up the study.

The facilities availed in the laboratory of RSRS, Jorhat and library of CMER&TI, Lahdoigarh is greatly acknowledged and for which I am indeed grateful to Dr .K. Giridhar, Director, CMER & TI, Lahdoigarh.

My sincere thanks goes to my elder brother Adhir Kumar Das, Retd. Judge and my sister in law Mrs. Chitra Hazarika for their incessant pressure in pursuing my PhD. study. Sincere thanks are also due to Prakash Chetry who was a constant source of help and inspiration during my study period.

I am thankful to Dr. K. Barman, Associate Professor in the Deptt. of Statistics, Cotton College, Cotton College State University, Guwahati, Assam and Ms. Barsha Neog Lecturer, Assam Agriculture University, Jorhat, Assam for their kind help in doing the statistical analysis and interpretation for completion of the Thesis.

I also extend my sincere thanks to my colleagues, friends and all other well wishers who have extended their help in preparing this thesis.

I am also thankful to the Honourable Member Secretary, CSB, Bangalore for giving me permission for doing Ph.D work.

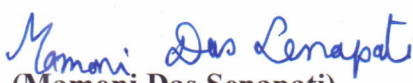

I express my deep and sincere gratitude to my family, who not only infused in me with courage to pursue the study but let me free from their usual pranks.

Sincere thanks to my husband Sri Ashok Kr. Senapati, DGM, Numaligarh Refinery Ltd. for his continual assistance and support rendered in accomplishing various tasks while writing this thesis.

Finally I am greatly thankful to The University of Science and Technology, (USTM) Meghalaya for giving me this opportunity to achieve my goal.

Last but not least I thank God for guiding me.
